

Does Dizzion support TWAIN Scanner/Printer?

Dizzion supports scanners using the Windows Image Acquisition (WIA) protocol rather than the legacy TWAIN standard. WIA offers a more modern, plug-and-play experience compared to TWAIN. While thousands of peripheral models are on the market, we do not guarantee compatibility with every specific brand or device. However, Dizzion has extensive experience with widely used configurations and can provide guidance based on proven, successfully deployed hardware across our customer base
